

I appreciate any support you can give consumers. My family's precious quiet time is often interrupted by solicitors who at times do not take no for an answer. Most times they are trained to keep you on the phone and field consumer objections with more comments or questions.

Respectfully,
Diane Van Dyke